DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Aker Cemetery is located about 3 miles northeast of the city of Smithville, Clay County, Missouri, in NW $\frac{1}{4}$, NW $\frac{1}{4}$, NW $\frac{1}{4}$ Sec. 18, T-54-N, R-32-W.

The Cemetery is in a deteriorated condition with the stones lying on the ground. The site is within a wooded area with very little undergrowth present because of heavy shade from the large trees. The area is grassed and several large limbs are scattered around the area.

At the site, there are 10 markers of commercial variety with the following information:

John Aker	d. August 21, 1835
Mary Aker	d. April 4, 1881
Charlotta McMillan	d. December 20, 1870
Infant son of R&C McMillan	no date
Susan Fry	d. December 11, 1863
Sarah Fry	d. December 17, 1863
Mahuldah Poteet	d. July 27, 1871
Archie Cavender	d. January 20, 1882
Novellah Aker	Born 1862 d. No date
George Cavender	d. September 18, 1881
Rosanna McMillan	d. October 7, 1855

In addition to the commercial markers, there are fieldstones that have been set to mark graves. Depressions in the ground also indicated graves. It is estimated that there are 25 graves counting the commercial stones, fieldstones, and depressions.

The original physical appearance is not known.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Aker Cemetery was started as the family burial plot for the first white settlers in the Platte River valley above the present community of Smithville, Missouri. John and Mary Aker accumulated 500 acres of land after first entering land from the Government in 1828. John Aker was born in Pennsylvania in 1785 to German parents. In 1812 he married Mary Sidener also of German decent. John and Mary Aker migrated from Kentucky to Clay County, Missouri, with several small children. The Akers had a total of 12 children. Members of other early families in the area are also buried in the cemetery, some of who had married into the Aker family.

The Aker Cemetery is the only remaining evidence of the initial settlers in the area as the original homestead buildings have been destroyed. The most recent known burial in the cemetery was 92 years ago.

This cemetery was not officially listed as such nor has it been commercially maintained. Its existence and location became known at the acquisition of land for the authorized Smithville Dam and Lake. The cemetery is located on the crest of a wooded hill presently overlooking the Platte River valley. Plans for the Smithville project propose the development of the hill for public recreational use. The cemetery will be above the full pool elevation of the completed Smithville Lake, and not subject to inundation. The wooded area surrounding the cemetery provides a very picturesque setting from which an overview of the completed Smithville Lake will be afforded. The integrity of the cemetery and setting can be maintained without major effort or expenditure of funds.

Local historical groups have become very interested in the cemetery and have done considerable research concerning the decedents of those buried in the Aker cemetery. The local sponsors, that will cooperatively develop the recreation facilities for public use of the Smithville Lake, have expressed an interest in the cemetery. They propose to develop the area with the cemetery being an historic and cultural site as the central theme of the entire proposed public use area. The planned development will assure the maintenance and protection of the cemetery, and also make it available for public visitation, study, and enjoyment.

At this time the local sponsor for the public use area is Clay County.
